THE MINERAL RAILWAY. - The following letters appeared in the Moorefield (W. Va.) Examiner of the 3d inst.:

WARDENSVILLE, June 1, 1887.

Editor Examiner:

The chief topic of conversation here at present is the proposed extension of the Midland railroad through Hisrdy, westward to the coal fields. Last week Mr. F. A. Reed, of Alexandria, Va., accompanied by Col. Robert Andrews, chief engineer and manager of the Virginia Midland railroad, and assistant engineer Cabell, passed through here and assistant engineer Cabell, passed through here on their way to make a preliminary examination of the most practicable route between this point and Moorefield. In a conversation which your correspondent had with these gentlemen on their return, they expressed an opinion, the result of their own observations compared with former surveys of the same route, entirely favorable to the proposed extension. This opinion itself coming from such competent enthority is in some serie a congruence that we authority, is in some sort a guarantee that we shall not always be without that great need of this portion of West Virginia; namely, railroad communication with the seaboard markets. It is true the principal object in view is to reach the coal fields; but there are innumerable other interests which will be directly benefited, and there are man may with his own propagity, and they was terests which will be directly benefited, and there is no man with his own prosperity and the prosperity of our State at heart who can afford to remain indifferent to so practical a means of material advancement as the proposed road offers us. Fortun-tely our people seem to be duly alive to the importance of railroad connection with the outside world, and there is little doubt if they were once well assured that the road would be built, they would second the enterprise by every means in their power.

A number of gentlemen of this city interested in the building of the road held a meeting last night looking to the advancement of the project.

NEW MILITARY COMPANY.—A meeting of those interested in the organization of a new military company in this city was held

THE EXCURSION SEASON.—Elsewhe at Armory Hall last night, and was largely attended. Mr. S. G. Brent was requested to preside, and Mr. L. C. Cole acted as sec retary. A call for the meeting, signed by forty seven persons who expressed a willingness to become members, was then read, and the name of the company-Alexandria Rifles-decided upon. Nominations for cap tain were then made, and upon a ballot being taken, Mr. C. A. Strangman received 17 votes and Mr. G. R. Hill 16, whereupon Mr. Strangman was declared elected, and a committee appointed to notify him of his election. Mr. L. C. Cole was then elected secretary, and Mr. G. E. Markell, treasurer. A committee was appointed to ask aid of the citizens in the organization of the new The meeting then adjourned till next Thursday night.
Mr. Strangman, who returned from Richmond last night, was notified of his election as captain of the company, but this morning sent a letter to the committee expressing his thanks for the compliment paid him, but declining the honor on account of his business engagements. It is understood that at the next meeting the captaincy will be tendered either to Mr. F. A. Reed or to Mr. Geo. R. Hill.

BOATING NOTES.-Mr. Fred. Plaisted, who for the past week has been engaged in training a crew of the Old Dominion Boat Club, of this city, for the coming regatta, has returned North to look after other crews. Mr. Plaisted's contract with the Old Dominion club had not expired, but at his request he was released from his engage ment. He will return here, however, and give the Old Dominion crew three days' more training before the regatla.

The Richmond Dispatch of to-day says:
"The following crew will be sent by the Virginia Boat Club, of this city, to the State regatta at Alexandria on the 4th of July Randolph Peyton, stroke; H. W. Rice, No. 3; A. S. Peticolas, No. 2; W. F. Broadnax. bow, and William Tinsley, coxswain. This is an excellent crew, and all the men are fine looking and muscular. They have been training every evening for about a month and are already in good condition. The Virginias have won the French prize cup for two successive years, and it is able they will be victorious a third time. The club will be put to considerable cost to train and send a crew to the regatta, and so it is to be hoped if our merchants and citizens generally are called upon for assistance to defray the expenses that it will be freely given. All the members of the crew are of Richmond except Mr. Broadnax, who lives

ROSENTHAL-OTTINGER NUPTIALS.—Last evening, Miss Martha Rosenthal and Mr. Jonas Ottenger, of Wilson, N. C., were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock, at the residence of the bride's parents, 22 Fairfax street, south. The salon parlor was effectively decorated with ferns and tropical plants, and other flowers banked the mantels and cabinets. The wedding guests as sembled a little before 630 p. m., and promptly at that hour the bridal party entered the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, where the impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Stern, tasty and elegant. The presents were numerous, artistic and costly. At 8:30 p.m., the bridal couple led the supper march to the spacious dining rooms where an elegant supper was served, after which dancing was indulged in until a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. Ottenger left shortly after 10 p. m., for the North. Guests were in attendance from New York, Baltimore, Washington, Wilkesbarre, Pa., Cleveland, Ohio, Chicago, Ill., and Beatrice, Neb.

SERIOUS CHARGE. - Rev. Francis M. Todd, who has had charge of the Presbyterian Church at Manassas and other places in Prince William, has had serious charges preferred against him. It is alleged that after preaching to his congregation Sunday week at Nokesville, he escorted a young woman to her home, and that while on the way thither the couple were discovered by a colored man in a position damaging to the reputation of both. The alleged witness noised the affair around considerably during the following week, and the matter comby to the ears of parties most interested the former was arrested and locked up. It is further stated that the colored man then made cath charging Mr. Todd with committing adultery near the public road. The accused is well known in this city, having preached on several occasions in the First Presbyterian Church. It will be remembered that several years ago similar charges were preferred against Mr. Todd, but they were not substantiated. He has a but they were not substantiated. THE NORMAL INSTITUTE will not be beld here, but in Fredericksburg. The following letter from the Superintendent of Public Instruction will explain the matter:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, RICHMOND, June 6, 1887

Superintendent R L. Carne, Alexandria, Va:

My Dear Sir-Your communications have been duly received and very favorably considered. In view, however, of all the facts, I have decided that the institute must go to Fredericksburg this year. The people of Fredericksburg were so urgent last year for an institute, and offered so many inducements that I regretted to go elsewhere. They now remind me of a partial promise to a Mr. Chartters that an institute should go there this year. They offer board from ten to twelve dollars per month, and very liberal terms in other respects. I need not enumerate these things.

these things. What makes me uncomfortable about the matter is that you have given yourself much trouble to investigate matters at Alexandria, and have to investigate matters at Alexandria, and have presented such strong reasons for an institute there, that it now looks like I was ignoring your active and valuable services in the matter, and ignoring also the strong inducements you present in behalf of your city, if, after all, I determine to go elsewhere. I feel sure, however, that while you may think I have made a mistake, you will not attribute my decision to any feeling of indifference towards yourself or your city. I am constrained, for reasons which I think satisfactory, to decide in favor of Fredericksburg this year. to decide in favor of Fredericksburg this year, but regret much that I disappoint you and your people. Very truly yours,

JOHN L. BUCHANAN,

Superintendent Public Instruction.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—This afternoon Mrs. Mollie Clift, who was dangerously shot in the Wilkes street tunnel in the summer of 1882 by her husband, James Clift, attempted to end her life by taking a dose of laudanum. She made two endeavors to pro-cure the drug before she succeeded, after which she swallowed the potion and repaired to a neighbor's house, on Wolfe street, between Lee and Fairfax. As soon as it was discovered that she had taken laudanum, Dr. Birdsall was summoned, who, by proper remedies, succeeded in freeing her stomach of the dose, and she is now in a fair way to recover. Domestic infelicity, it

THE EXCURSION SEASON. - Elsewhere will be found the advertisement of the steamer Mary Washington, Captain E. S. Randall, which is to make excursion trips to River View during the season. The steamer has been almost rebuilt during the present year and is now fitted up commodiously. River View, under the management of Mr. Ran dall, has also been beautified in many ways. Both the work on the boat and at this popular resort has been executed by Alexandria mechanics, and River View being almost in sight of home and presenting many attrac-tions it will be found a delightful spot to while away a day during the heated term which will soon be upon us.

NEW YORK, June S .- The stock market open ed weak this morning, first prices showing declines from last evening's final figures of from 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. generally. There was a spurt of activity in the first ten minutes, but it soon died away, and the market became decidedly dull. Late in the hour, however, there was again a moderate trading. Prices in the early dealings were irregular, but the movements were for insignificant fractions only. A general upward movement occurred later, but was followed by a decline, prices being carried down below the opening figures. At 11 o'clock the market was moderately active and heavy to weak. Money easy at 435.
